

Critically endangered species of Greece

The biodiversity of Greece is at high risk.

IUCN has marked more than 50 species as critically endangered.

The following plot shows the distribution of four critically endangered species:
Spermophilus citellus, Oropodisma lagrecai, Parnassiana gionica, Callitriche pulchra.

